Historic Market Town full of Charm and Character

Built on the site of an ancient settlement atop an inland cliff with the River Torridge below, Great Torrington is a friendly, welcoming market town which enjoys spectacular views across rolling hills and unspoilt green countryside.

The town has a fascinating and varied history. As "Toritone" it is mentioned in the 1086 Domesday survey of Devon. Neolithic artefacts and Iron Age Settlements show that people have lived in the area for thousands of years. Amongst other things, it is famously known for the Battle of Torrington in 1646, which marked the end of Royalist resistance in the West Country. The rich history can be further explored at the town's Museum and through a Self-Guided Heritage Walking Tour.
